MADAM MATILDA RERON STOEPEL BEGS TO Mannounce that she has opened Reading Classes for the instruction of young ladies in the highest branches of English literature. Madam Stoepel also purposes to give her best attenuon to preparing pupils for the first rank in the Dramatic profession. To aid her in sendeavoring to perfect this object she has secured the use of a stage through the courtesy of one of the first managers in the city. Private lessons given in English grammar, the first step to even a moderate deducation or the appreciation of any author, an accomplishment too frequently the least considered and always the most required in the ambitious dramatic student. No young ladies for the stage accepted without the personal consent of their parents or guardians.

The budget of the new Minister of Finance, Hon. John Rose, is the ablest and most lucid financial statement Rose, is the ablest and most lucid financial statement that has ever been submitted to the Canadian Parliament. The resignation of Mr. Galt appeared to be regarded somewhat is the light of a public calamity; but it is apparent that his successor will be a much more successful Minister, and chiefly because he lacks his predecessor's power of concealment, and is inclined to deal fairly by stating everything in the most candid manner. The success of the new Minister of Finance, however, is not altogether for the benefit of the Dominhowever, is not altogether for the benefit of the Domin ion, since it turns out that he will not be able to meet the demands upon it without largely increased taxation. He has shown by his statement of Saturday that the Dominton has a floating debt of nearly seven millions, which he intends so to dispose of that no new bill will be needed. He is to provide for it by means of compelling certain corporations to pay their indebtedness to the government, and this is a considerable item. Large nums are owing by various companies, and in addition to this the municipalities owe a very large amount of money borrowed from the government years ago, the interest upon which is now considerable. It is also proposed to issue more government notes, establish savings banks and a Dominion stock, in which all parties may invest. Half a dozen means of raising the wind are invest. Half a dozen means of raising the wind are proposed, all of which appear feasible enough; but that would only dispose of the so-called floating debt, created no one seems to know how. To be sure, the Febian raid of 1566 cost a large amount, but the government indobtedness to the Baac of Montreal is over two and a baif militions, which is anything but a gratifying fact after all that has occurred, for if that institution is to retain its hold upon the government it may be enabled to dictate terms to it and piace the country in a most unenviable pestition. The first six months of the union show that everything has gone well, for there is a surplus of $2,104,530. This indicates prosperity and shows that the Dominion is likely to go on satisfactorily; but what is to be done with the indebtedness is a question that troubles very many. The assumed debt of the Dominion at the time of the union on the last of July last, was $75,000,000, Add to that the present floating debt and we have something over a debt of eighty millions to face. In addition to this, there will be the proposed cost of the Inter-Colonial Rainway, $15,000,000, and the possibility of an expenditure of a few millions more upon the annexation of the Northwest Territory.

Now, it is quite clear that so large a sum, say about $100,000,000 in all, will be more than (anada will ever be able to pay. The resources of the country are great and capable of expansion, but it will require an enormous taxation, by and by, to meet even the interest upon the debt, and it does not seem possible that the indebtedness will ever be wiped off. What wonder need there be, then, that many are unwilling to believe that confederation will prove a bood? The maritime provinces nave made an excellent ourgain, and it is stranged that Nova Scoula knows and wealthest of the provinces. How strange that members of the opposition is Parliament have permitted themselves to be so blinded with regard to the financial satisfactory; for its eonly satisfactory as regards Mr. Ross's manner of dealing with it, The fact still remains that the Dominion is inaugurated with the burden of a heavy debt upon it. ated no one seems to know how. To be sure, the Femian raid of 1866 cost a large amount, but the government acheme is calculated to favor such a thing if difficult to judge; but it does not seem at all likely that the Northwest will be fit for settlement until a large smouth has been expended in making roads and opening the country in such a manner as to facilitate settlement. The idea of counteracting emigration to the Western States is a very crude one, and will deceive nobody. The government must have some other object in view, or they would not have taken the Legislature and the public so much by surprise as they did in introducing the resolutions in question.

The explanations have apparently satisfied everybody, and not a word of objection is urged, except by the Nova Scotians, who, being anti-unionists, are naturally opposed to the extension of the union. The question been a great hobby with the reform party, and they are therefore strongly in favor of the movement. The Minister of Public Works has made a decided hit in proposing the resolutions; yet after all it is quite clear that nothing is to be gained by adding the territory in question to the Dominion. There is nothing like getting hold of a popular idea, no matter how absurd it may be. It is expected that the Minister of Customs will propose an increased duty upon spirits; rumor first assigned. At expected that the Minister of Customs will propose an increased duty upon spirits; rumor first assigned an excise duty, but it appears that the government have given way to the distillers, who Content they are unable to compete with the American manufacturers, as corn is so cheap. It certainly says little for our manufacturers if they are not able to compete successfully in face of the heavy excuse upon American spirits. If the truth were known, the manufacturers here want additional protection. Such an imposition will not help the revenue, as it will amount to a virtual prohibition. The article would bear a heavier excise, and still the profite of our distillers would be large.

All concessions and petitions pending, and all projects for reform or the realizing of a revenue even, the press and Cabinet seem determined shall lie over for the discussion and action of the representatives of the people. The difficulty which this body will discussion are considered. people. The difficulty which this body will discover in grappling with these great questions will, we imagine, result in a revulsion of opinion on the part of such of the people as have been so ready to worry and find fault with the present Executive. The fact, we imagine, will have been discovered that an official position near the head of any government in Mexico, while it may possibly be filled with pecuniary profit, is most surely a trying and dangerous one, pregnant with uncertainty, even oftentimes to the life of the incumbent. It is expected that by the last of this month Congress will have met and obtained a quorum, and that the talent of the country, as represented here, will make its exhibit before the world.

There are now very many applicants here before the government asking for concessions. I may say they are as follows:—Folk different parties or forms asking for a mail contract or a subdy for carrying the mail on the Pacific coast; two or three for a road (railroad) from siexico city to Acapuice or some other points on the Pacific; one or more for the Mexico City and Vora Cruz Road, a part of which is already completed. An indefinite number for a concession for an express or mail line from this capitat to Vera Cruz. Two or more asking mores for the seamors from road way for the contract of the profit of the parties of the profit for New York. A similar line, from New Order to Vera Cruz, is sought to be established. Three or were for the seamors from road New York. A similar line, from New Order to Vera Cruz, is sought to be established. Three for the profit on the draining of the great valley of Mexico, and so we might continue the list aimost indefinitely. The nationality of most of these parties is Americas, and they represent many millions of capital, and although several of them have been here for many weeks or months, they have as yet accomplished millie or nothing. Many hopeful ones expect that after the arrival of Mr. Romero the government will be induced, by his favorable representations, to allow Now York capitalists to try some of these enterprises. There are others who suspect that Kr. Romero could hardly have felt omplying the department of the conveying of the family of President Juarer to Vera Cruz should have convended an immediate of the convenience of the family of President Juarer to Vera Cruz without loss of life,

The Guntemain Trouble-Vern Cruz Election.

The Mexican papers complain furiously of the "traitors" having found a secure asylum in the fronter of Guatemaia—that the filibusters from that direction have frequently invaded Mexican territory, victimizing the indefensive population of the borders. The pretensions of Guatemala upon the Department of Seconucco, incorporated with Chiapas since 1842, are the conusco, incorporated with Chiapas since 1842, are the pretext for repeated invasions. Those pretextions are only founded on topographic plans, made by order of the Guatemala government by Somnester, who only says that the incorporation is not recognized by Guatemala. It is striving now to establish a right on so weak a basis, and actually fosters the expeditions formed for the Mexican frontier, invariably headed by Mexican malcontents.

A SOUTH CAROLINA MYSTERY.

[From the Carolina Spartan.]

At an inquest held about five miles south of Spartanburg, by J. M. Efford, acting Coroner, siter an examination carefully made of certain bones found buried about seventy five yards from the bouse occupied formerly by one hark Goodwyn, in a gully, the jury, from the evidence of a skilful physician who carefully and minutely examined all paris that could be found, and from the evidence of the neighbors around, decided that they were burned from one and a thaif to five years, and that they were burned from one and a thaif to five years, and that they were burned from one and a thaif to five years, and that they were burned from one and a thaif to five years, and that they were burned from one and a thaif to five years, and that they had every reason to behave that one Mack Goodwyn was knowing to the whole affair, and that he should be at once arrested, that the matter might be fully adjudicated to the Court of General Sessions of our district. It is said Goodwyn is now confined its our jail to wait his trial for murder. The circumstances which led to the suspicion and arrest of the said Goodwyn were as follows:—During the war, about five years ago, Goodwyn's wife disappeared very mysteriously, he saying that she had taken the cars and gone to Georgia, which statement was descredited by his neighbors, and now thistanding the efforts of some individuals to learn new thereabouts, she has never been heard from. Immediately after the disappearance of his wife he took to his hoose an amour, with whom he has since been living.
